Dear Mrs. Offerle,

Motorola is pleased to present this year's response to your annual request for bids. We have attempted to provide all information that was requested. Actual unit specifications are cited in the enclosures, and most manuals have been supplied. Please note Motorola's position in respect to the following General Provisions. We don't think that this will cause any difficulty whatsoever.

12. Default

If the Contractor is wholly responsible for failure to perform in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Contract Documents, the Purchaser may consider the Contractor to be in default. In this event, the Purchaser shall serve written notice upon the Contractor of its intention to terminate the Contract or a portion thereof. Such notice shall contain the reasons for such intention to terminate and the Contractor shall have thirty days after receipt to cure or provide a satisfactory plan of action to cure said default. If the Contractor fails to cure or provide a satisfactory plan to cure, the Purchaser may take over any unfulfilled portion of the Contract and complete the system through a third party. In the event the Purchaser completes the system through a third party, the Contractor shall be responsible for an amount in excess of the Contract price, not to exceed the value of the terminated portion, incurred by the Purchaser in completing the system to a capability not exceeding that specified in the contract documents.

15. Changes

Any alterations to this contract which cause an increase or decrease in the cost of or time required for the performance of any part of this contract shall not become binding until bothe the Purchaser and Motorola have agreed upon an equitable adjustment and the contract has been modified in writing accordingly.

16. Records and Audit

Motorola agrees that its books and records, insofar as they pertain to work done or items supplied pursuant to the Purchase Order or Contract shall at all reasonable hours be subject to audit and inspection at the Motorola facility by the Purchaser. Provided that, except as otherwise provided by law, nothing contained herein shall authorize the Purchaser to audit particular books or records of Motorola insofar as such particular books or records contain confidential information regarding product costs.

19. Permits & Licenses

The purchaser is solely responsible for obtaining any licenses or other authorizations required by the F.C.C. and for complying with its rules. Neither Motorola nor any of its employees is an agent or representative of the Purchaser in FCC matters or otherwise.

MBE/WBE

Until such time as the Purchaser can generate a specific Purchase Order for a specific quantity of a specific Motorola product we are unable to respond with the percentages of minority labor or management subcontractor involvement. In no case would Fort Wayne area labor be involved in the actual production of the particular items being bid.

As a corporation, Motorola is a major worldwide-based manufacturer of communications and electronics products. The MBE/WBE percentage of involvement isdetermined by the particular items involved.

Please consider the attachments and let us know if you have any questions about these or any other Motorola products. We will be glad to provide any documentation requested if it is at all available.

Sincerely,

Samuel W. Edson
